

Anglian Learning Cookie Notice

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file, typically of letters and numbers, downloaded to your computer when you access websites. Typically, they contain the following information:

- a site name and unique user ID,
- the duration of the cookie's abilities and effects,
- and a random number.

Changing the settings on your browsers can prevent this. We will only record or share third party cookies where we have your consent to do so. For more information about how we manage your personal data, see our privacy notice.

Exceptions

There are some exemptions to the above where it is essential for a website to store information on your computer, for example, to provide a service to you that you have requested.

Our use of cookies

Cookie Law

Data Protection laws demand that you, as a website user, are given the opportunity to understand how cookies are used on our websites and consent to cookies being stored on your computer (laptop / mobile / tablet).

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies to;

Monitor the use of our website

We put a session cookie on your computer for the duration of your visit to our site. It stores data about the browser you are using and information you have entered for our website to function correctly and to deliver you the best service. This cookie is deleted when you leave our website. We track what you do on our website to improve your experience and for functionality purposes.

Collect trend data

We also use cookies to collect trend data, which we analyse to help us improve how our site works. This trend data includes how visitors find our site and how they move around our site.

Use Google Analytics

Anglian Learning use Google Analytics to track website engagement. You may disable the Google Analytics function by means of a browser add-on to ensure the prevention of the sending of any analytical information to Google.

How to change your cookie settings

Most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit www.aboutcookies.org <https://www.allaboutcookies.org/>. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

How to delete cookies from your device

The method for removing cookies from different browsers varies. A good reference is the following resource, which covers all main stream browsers: <https://www.cookie-law-info.com/ways-to-block-cookies-in-different-browsers/>